Following up on our discussion of on Tuesday, 1. We have some of the budget that is going to Enron for the bureau that is some of the U.S. and some of the Canadian budget. 2. We have a report that, we are going to discuss with you and the representatives on the business unit, how we are going to organize the function of the Canadian origination in the future. 3. We would like to discuss with you how we are going to organize the successor to the U.S. origination and the division on the Canadian side. Thanks SachinQ: using while loop to get answer from user and display on screen using getch() I am trying to make a simple game in which I want to get answer from the user and display in a loop. However, the code which asks for the input and prints it on screen is too long and I want to break it into separate subroutines, as it would make the code look messy and would slow it down. Here is the code : #include #include #include #include #define wins 2 #define loss 1 #define tie 0 int main(void) { int start = 0; int status = 0; int flip = 0; srand(time(NULL)); int N = 500; int S = N / 2; int i, j,
