Error Message A: The error message reads: PHP Notice: Use of undefined constant APACHE_RUN_USER - assumed 'APACHE_RUN_USER' in /var/www/usr/local/php/5.3.3/src/LICENSE.txt on line 9 It means that the Apache user does not have permissions to write to the LICENSE.txt file in the php source directory. First, check if that's the case with this command: find /var/www/ -type f -name LICENSE.txt This will find all the files in the entire Apache source tree that contain the file LICENSE.txt. And then you need to change the permissions of the LICENSE.txt file and the files below it to be owned by the appropriate user: chown -R www-data:www-data /var/www/php/ This will change the ownerships of all files below the php source directory. If that's not the problem then it's possible the Apache user is not able to write to the directory you're using. You can solve this by changing the ownership of the php directory to the Apache user with: chown -R www-data:www-data /var/www/php Afterwards, it's possible that Apache cannot write to a directory that's already owned by another user. To solve this, you can reset the permissions on the directory to the Apache user with: chown -R www-data:www-data /var/www/php/ If that does not solve the problem, then try resetting the permissions on the php source directory with: chmod -R 755 /var/www/php/ That should allow all Apache users to read and write to that directory. Then, if you do not have any other Apache users, you can also set the permissions on the entire Apache source tree to be owned by the Apache user by running: chown -R www-data:www-data /etc/httpd/ chown -R www-data:www-data /usr/local/apache2/ chown -R www-data:www-data /usr/local/apache2/src/ chown -R www-data:www-data /var/www/php/ chown
