What's New in the?

You can import feedback and comment markup directly from Google Drawings. You can import markup in PDF or in a postscript file. AutoCAD 2023 goes one step further by allowing you to send your feedback in email. Create your own feedback file. Create an xml file and specify text, comments, notes, and hyperlinks that you'd like to send along with your drawings. You can also link to additional info, to a site like Slideshare, and to a cloud-based collaboration tool like Google Docs. (video: 1:15 min.) Add revision history to your drawing. (video: 1:13 min.) Autodesk has also improved AutoCAD's markup assistant. The AutoCAD 2023 markup assistant supports an improved version of the markup language that was introduced in AutoCAD 2012. New support for Adobe Illustrator files (.ai) AutoCAD

2023 includes support for Adobe Illustrator files (.ai) and CSS style sheets. You can quickly create a link to an external site by adding the link to an external style sheet. Faster online and offline rendering

AutoCAD 2023 includes several improvements to the rendering engine that makes it faster and more reliable. The rendering engine now renders online and offline. This means that you no longer need to wait for rendering when you open a drawing that contains large amounts of geometry. This is useful if you have a large 3D model that you need to open in AutoCAD. The rendering engine also now generates a crash report when it encounters an unhandled exception. If you encounter an issue rendering the file, you'll know exactly what caused the crash and what you can do to fix it.

Simplified user interface You'll notice a new look and feel for the user interface. The ribbon is now optional and can be hidden by users who don't need it. One particularly useful feature is that AutoCAD now supports command prompt style input. You can now enter commands and parameters using the prompt (command >) rather than just the menu. This allows you to create more commands, and makes your programs faster and more reliable. System Requirements Microsoft Windows XP, Vista, 7 or 8 (32 or 64 bit). Microsoft Office 2007 or later. Internet Explorer 8.0 or later. The following software and
