It's so hard to imagine that now with how long we have been together. There are so many moments I can remember growing up, like sitting on my Dad's lap while he taught me how to tie my shoes. There were times when it was simply having all of them around me. The big family gatherings when everyone got together for a meal or any of the other gatherings that made everyone feel special. The friendship and loyalty my sisters and I have for each other is something I can't even believe. We have all been through so much together, like surviving my Mom's cancer diagnosis last year. Through all this and more we are still together.Q: Probability that two random numbers are coprime

We want to share that experience with you, and that's why we're the creator of the most authentic football video game in the world - FIFA. We've been at the heart of football for almost 30 years. In the game, a player has eleven unique 'controls', enabling them to change the ball at the flick of a foot. A player can hit a pass or cross a ball into the box. But it's not just the control that makes FIFA different from everything else. Before the shot is taken, every movement is governed by virtual laws. Players have vision and stamina, they can last 90 minutes, they're not invincible. They have to learn to use their technical gifts - aerial duels, dribbling, crossing - to control the game. We're passionate about the sport. We've seen it all. We've been there on the pitch, on the bus, and at the pub. We want to share that experience with you, and that's why we're the creator of the most authentic football video game in the world - FIFA. FIFA. FIFA is everywhere.
