The film was entered into the 21st Moscow International Film Festival where it won the Golden Prize. The film is adapted from the novel by Nobel Prize winner Orhan Pamuk about a young architect with the same name and his romance with an older woman. Plot Might be Siirmez (Akin Halis) a young architect whose love for a younger woman named Leyla (Kemal Sunal) is thwarted by the wishes of her prudish father who wants her to marry a philanderer of good reputation. Siirmez, who is the same name as Orhan Pamuk, has no plan to marry Leyla and is moving from one boarding house to the next. Meanwhile, it seems Leyla is pregnant by Siirmez and her father is thrilled about the prospect of a grandchild. On the other hand, Siirmez is badly in need of funds in order to create a hotel. He attempts to get the money by selling his kidney, which he had sold in the
