Join this adventure! MEET THE HOST: Former Grasshopper Executive Producer Ryuji Iuchi The experience, passion, and knowledge of Grasshopper's senior management team and lead producer, Ryuji Iuchi, are gathered into a single person. ABOUT INNOSCIENTIFIC: Innoscientific is a game development company based in Shibuya (Tokyo). Their first original works include the award-winning creative action RPG, Tarnished, and the classic stealth game, Metal Gear Solid. They are well known for their playfulness, and are always on the lookout for new and creative ways to make games.

With their experience in production of the most recognized titles in the PlayStation® community and distribution, they are making efforts to showcase the gameplay they're dedicated to. ABOUT GRASSHOPPER MANUFACTURE: Grasshopper Manufacture was founded in 1999 in Japan. In that year, they created the cult hit action RPG, Metal Gear Solid, and brought a new dimension to the video game market by combining the action of a shoot 'em up with the strategic thinking of a role-playing game. It was the first game to have a female character on the cover of a game (Female Commander in Metal Gear Solid, who later went on to be Lead Designer for Metal Gear Solid 2). After the release of Metal Gear Solid 2, the company grew and is now a global conglomerate. Among the many accolades the company has received in recent years, two have especially stood out: the Game of the Year award in their own country of Japan
