error 0x80004005 I am trying to install Visual Studio 2017 on my new Windows 10 PC. I'm getting the following error in the VS 2017 installer when I reach the end: The common reason for failure 0x80070057 is when the target file is a valid zip file, but has been damaged, incomplete, or corrupted during the download. A different failure 0x80040111 means that a file is missing from the download location. (Exception from HRESULT: 0x8007301D) The Windows Installer API returned error 0x80004005. I have tried a bunch of different updates, uninstalled any ADT plugins I might have installed, tried both 32-bit and 64-bit downloads. The error message tells me there's a file missing. I tried searching for the file via Google, but wasn't able to find it. Here are the files that I could find via Google: Why is this happening? A: The issue may be resolved by removing any local installation of Visual Studio you may have configured. Please follow the steps below: Make a backup of all the files involved in the installation (Backup them in a folder on another drive) Start %USERPROFILE%\AppData\Local\Programs\Microsoft Visual Studio 2017 Open %USERPROFILE%\AppData\Local\Programs\Microsoft Visual Studio 2017\Installer Open the folder %USERPROFILE%\AppData\Local\Programs\d0c515b9f4
