Each of these folders has an ant build file, of which I have following. lib folder |-include A |-include B |-include C Now when I'm in include A or B, using the ant include task, I get all three include files from the lib folder. However if I'm in include C, it only gets the include A and B files, but not the C files. I also tried out the importall task, but it didn't make a difference. Is there a way to get around this? Thanks A: Thank you Rob for your input. It seems that the way I have included the includes, is not the right way. I need to access these files, so that they get put in the same directory as the source code. So what I need to do is copy the files that I need to get those include files in all the directories with the same names as the include folder. Then I will be able to use ant include to get those files. Q: XCode - Automatic mirroring code In regards to Xcode project management, is it possible to have 6d1f23a050
